Bella Abzug Park & Boulevard

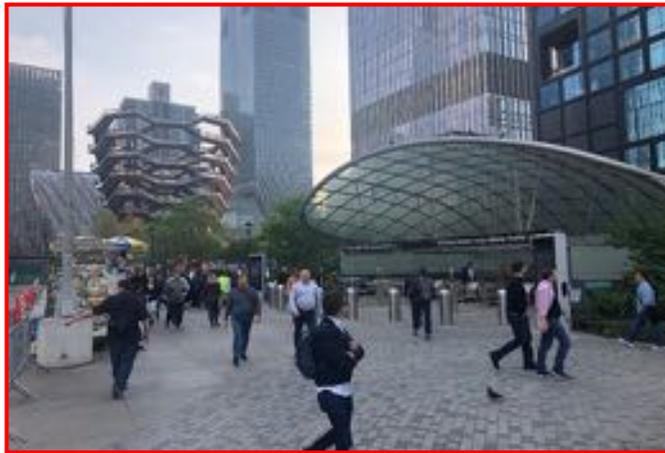

The Bella Abzug Park & Boulevard stretches from 33rd to 36th Street between two major avenues.

The area consists of open spaces for public events, grassy expanses and quiet seating areas. It also includes two entrances to the newly expanded No. 7 subway line and the ability to close streets between 35th and 36th Street for private events.

Sampling at Bella Abzug Park

With its heavy foot traffic – 2,000 passersby per hour – the Bella Abzug Park is ideal for crowd sampling. It is located directly in front of two newly expanded No. 7 subway line stations. Permitting approvals are included.

High Line Nine

Located at 507 West 27th Street, High Line Nine sits directly below New York's iconic High Line.

Designed by Markus Dochantschi and his associates at StudioMDA, this first of its kind gallery and event space is made up of nine white box stand-alone galleries separated by one long white hallway that serves as the main stage for parties and events. The galleries are filled with artists' work year-round and welcome new pieces each month. Note that the art can be removed upon request for special events if given enough lead time.
